

Hallmoor Key Stage 4 History Option Long Term Plan

In Key Stage 4 at Hallmoor School, children who choose to study History as an option will partake in obtaining Pre-Entry AQA Unit Awards. For more able students, there is also the option to study for OCR Entry Level History. The two qualifications have been designed to run alongside each other, where possible. This means that it is possible for learners to gain Pre-Entry AQA Unit Awards whilst also studying and completing elements for OCR Entry Level History.

OCR Entry Level History:

Learners must complete three pieces of work for assessment. These tasks are set by your centre so that you can target your learners' interests. The tasks can be structured or can allow more extended writing to suit the abilities of the learners. These tasks consist of a thematic study, depth study and a study of a site or individual. All the Entry Level History tasks are internally assessed. They are marked by the teacher and internally standardised by the centre. Marks are then submitted to OCR by 15 May on an annual basis, after which moderation takes place in accordance with OCR procedures.

AQA Unit Awards:

Where possible, AQA Unit Awards are aligned to match the content that is taught through OCR Entry Level History.

Aims:

Analyse, evaluate and make substantiated judgements about interpretations (including how and why interpretations may differ) in the context of historical events studied
